

No media conglomerates. The news should not be treated as any other business. Do not let full control of public information go into private hands.